Just outside the door, there's an incredible living space that doesn't appear on any floor plan. It's the place your clients crave after the impossible deadline, the frenzied workday or the freeway gridlock. It's an inviting back yard, an enchanting park, an entire community that welcomes them home from the moment they reach the entry gate. All they have to do is breathe it in.

At Gillespie Design Group, we do much more than landscape architecture. We set the stage for living, with turnkey outdoor environments that mirror your clients' dreams down to the smallest detail. We create settings for quiet reflection, festive celebration and everything in between.

Just add life.
